Racing Investigators Set to Gather in Kentucky for Annual Conference

Group to discuss integrity in horse racing, medication trends

LEXINGTON, Ky. (Feb. 11, 2014) – National and world leaders in horse racing investigations will gather in Lexington, Ky., March 2- 5 for the annual meeting of The Organization of Racing Investigators (ORI).

The conference will be held at the downtown Hyatt Regency hotel, adjacent to Rupp Arena. Registration information and the agenda for the conference can be found online at <http://racinginvestigators.org/index.php/conferences/agenda>.

Key presenters include Jonathan Richeson of the federal Department for Homeland Security, Mary Scollay, DVM and Equine Medical Director for the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission, and Susan Speckert, general counsel for the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission who will be discussing documentation, chain of custody, evidence collection and search of property procedures when conducting an investigation.

About ORI

The Organization of Racing Investigators was established in 1991 with the purpose of addressing the problems of the pari-mutuel racing industry as they relate to the integrity and general health of the sport. By holding annual educational conferences and sharing information throughout the year with those who serve the industry, the goal of creating a meaningful working relationship may be realized.

More information about the ORI can be found online at <http://racinginvestigators.org>.
